PCC sponsors major baseball event at North American Indigenous Games

The Provincial Capital Commission sponsored baseball, one of four major team sports at the North American Indigenous Games held in the Duncan area in August 2008. Above, PCC CEO Ray Parks puts one in the catcher's mitt with ceremonial first pitch to open the baseball tournament. At right, PCC Chief Financial Officer Rick Crosby and Ray Parks present silver and gold medals to the Washington and Wisconsin teams. More than 4,200 athletes and 3,000 cultural performers from all over Canada and the United States took part in the Cowichan 2008 Games.
